Two Passengers Caught Drinking Alcohol on Flight to Goa

Airline staff on a flight to Goa spotted two passengers drinking alcohol and took immediate action.

Staff stated that only alcohol served by the airline may be consumed on board, and unauthorized drinking is against the rules.

The cabin crew isolated the passengers and informed them of potential fines or reporting to the aviation authority.

The incident highlights the strict enforcement of in-flight rules to maintain flight safety and tranquility.

Staff further stated that strict penalties will be imposed for such violations in the future, and the flight arrived in Goa on schedule.

New Menu on Bengaluru-Goa Vande Bharat Express: What Passengers Will Get

Indian Railways has introduced a new food menu on the Bengaluru-Goa Vande Bharat Express. The change aims to provide greater variety to passengers by including both vegetarian and non-vegetarian options, along with local flavors from Karnataka and Goa.

The new menu is available across all classes, offering breakfast, lunch, dinner, snacks, and beverages for passengers ranging from Executive Chair Car to AC Chair Car. Passengers can also pre-order meals via the IRCTC app at the time of ticket booking, ensuring timely onboard service.

Railway officials stated that this change is part of a broader effort to enhance the passenger experience on premium trains, emphasizing hygiene, quality ingredients, and regional dishes.

The Bengaluru-Goa Vande Bharat Express, which commenced operations earlier this year, is now serving this updated menu on its daily runs, benefiting both business and leisure travelers.

Mini Holige and Paneer Curry Served on Bengaluru-Goa Vande Bharat

Indian Railways' Bengaluru-Goa Vande Bharat train has now introduced a menu showcasing regional flavors. Passengers can now enjoy mini holige, a traditional sweet, and paneer curry prepared with local spices. Along with these, other Konkani and Karnataka dishes will be served, highlighting the culinary heritage of both states.

The menu was featured in a video report by Asianet Newsable, which captured the train's kitchen and the presentation of the dishes. Railway officials said the initiative is aimed at providing passengers with a more comfortable and culturally enriched travel experience.

The inclusion of these dishes aligns with Indian Railways' broader strategy to promote regional food in its premium services, allowing passengers to taste local cuisine without leaving the train. The Vande Bharat, known for its speed and modern amenities, is now adding a culinary dimension to its appeal.

Goa's Water Crisis Attributed to Factors Other Than Rainfall

The Week published an opinion piece stating that Goa's persistent water crisis cannot be attributed solely to a lack of rainfall. The article notes that despite recent monsoons, the state continues to face difficulties in meeting water demand. The commentary emphasizes the need to focus on fundamental issues such as infrastructure and resource management, rather than blaming rainfall alone. The authors have urged policymakers and local authorities to address these systemic factors to ensure a reliable water supply for residents.

The article does not present new data but highlights that directly linking the water problem to rainfall patterns oversimplifies the situation. By shifting the discourse to the broader aspects of water governance, the authors are calling for a review of current strategies.

Readers are encouraged to consider how long-term planning and efficient distribution can mitigate the recurring water shortages in Goa's coastal and inland districts.

Goa Beaches Target Blue Flag 2026-27

The Blue Flag certification is an internationally recognised environmental label awarded to beaches that meet stringent environmental, safety and accessibility standards. The Goa government is actively working to obtain this recognition for its beaches, investing in infrastructure development, waste management and public awarenes campaigns. Mandrem and Galgibaga have been identified as potential candidates for certification based on their existing infrastructure and commitment to sustainable practices. 2026-27 is the target year when these beaches aim to achieve the desired Blue Flag status.

Forest Department Proposes 24 Beaches as Turtle Nesting Sites

The Forest Department has drafted a proposal to designate 24 beaches along India's coast as official turtle nesting sites. This step aims to provide safe habitats for several turtle species classified as vulnerable or endangered under national and international conservation criteria. According to the draft, selected beaches will have monitoring, signage and restrictions on activities that could disturb nesting females or hatchlings. Local authorities are expected to collaborate in implementing these measures during the peak nesting season. Environmental experts welcomed the initiative, stating that systematic protection of nesting beaches is crucial to reversing the declining turtle populations. The proposal will undergo review by relevant state and central agencies before official implementation.
