MPSI cites score error, casting doubt on Mizoram storekeeper recruitment

The Mizoram Public Service Commission (MPSC) has indicated that it found errors in the calculation of scores for applicants to the storekeeper positions. The commission's notice states that this tabulation error may affect the final merit list, leading to the temporary suspension of the recruitment process.

Consequently, the announcement of selected candidates has been postponed, and applicants are awaiting clarification on whether a re-evaluation will be conducted. This delay underscores the importance of accuracy in competitive examinations for government positions, where a large number of candidates participate.

The MPSC stated that it will re-examine the error and issue further directives to ensure a transparent and fair selection process. Applicants have been advised to keep a close watch on official notifications.

Mizoram Student Union Demands Probe into Errors in MPSC Examination

A student union representing higher-education students in Mizoram has demanded action over errors reported in the recent Mizoram Public Service Commission (MPSC) examination. The union filed a written petition with the commission, highlighting procedural lapses that could affect the fairness of the selection process.

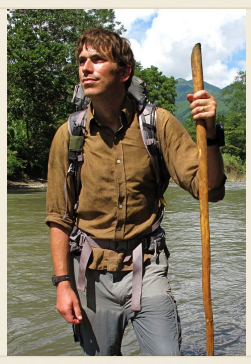

The petition points out specific problems such as inconsistencies in question-paper distribution, breaches of confidentiality, and delays in result declaration. The student union urges the commission to launch an independent inquiry, correct the identified faults, and reschedule the affected portions of the exam.

So far, the MPSC has not issued a detailed response, but officials have confirmed receipt of the complaint and assured that the matter will be investigated under established protocols. The outcome of this inquiry will impact thousands of aspirants who rely on this exam for entry into the state civil services.

This demand reflects widespread student concern across the state, underscoring the need for a transparent, merit-based recruitment process in the public sector.

Mizoram's border position gives new impetus to India's Act East policy, Governor says

The Governor of Mizoram told DD News that the state, situated on the India-Myanmar border, is a crucial pillar of India's Act East policy, which aims to deepen economic and strategic ties with Southeast Asia. He noted that proximity to Bangladesh and Myanmar is facilitating trade routes, infrastructure projects, and people-to-people contact, enabling New Delhi to become a gateway to the region.

The Governor mentioned that initiatives such as the Kaladan Multi-Modal Transit Transport Project and additional road-rail links will leverage Mizoram's geographical position to boost commerce and logistics. These plans are expected to attract investment, create jobs, and improve connectivity to remote areas.

He also highlighted security aspects, stating that a strong presence on the border ensures stability and allows for the management of cross-border challenges. By integrating Mizoram more deeply into national and regional frameworks, the government hopes to present a strong and cooperative stance in the Indo-Pacific region.

the ongoing expansion of India's Act East policy, which emphasizes connecting northeastern states with both economic access and strategic significance.

Mizoram Congress chief demands probe into Kol-Sairang Express derailment

The president of the Mizoram Congress has urged the state government and railway authorities to conduct a full investigation into the derailment of the Kol-Sairang Express. The incident occurred on a major railway line in the state, raising questions about safety standards and maintenance conditions. The party chief stated that a transparent investigation is necessary to restore public confidence and hold officials responsible for track maintenance accountable. This demand comes as the Railway Ministry's preliminary report is awaited.

Although no lives were lost in the derailment, passenger services were significantly disrupted, and the incident highlighted vulnerabilities in the region's railway infrastructure. Local passengers expressed concern over the safety of their daily commutes, prompting political leaders to intervene. The Congress president's appeal aligns with broader demands for stricter oversight of railway operations in the northeast.

State officials have not yet issued a detailed response, but sources suggest a fact-finding team could be constituted within days. The Railway Department will present its preliminary findings to the state cabinet, after which further action will be taken based on the investigation's results.
